Dear _____:

I would like your assistance in encouraging the use of propane Autogas vehicle fuel in our community.

Autogas – the term used to describe propane when it is used as a motor fuel – is a clean, economical and safe alternative fuel. It is almost entirely domestically produced (about 90%), so using Autogas reduces America’s dependence on foreign oil. It is a reliable fuel and it’s available now.

Autogas is an ideal fuel for our community’s vehicle fleets. Our school district, public service departments and other agencies must be urged to transition from conventional gasoline to clean, readily available alternative fuels. Your support of Autogas use in our community is critical to cleaning up our air and water.

I am a supporter of Autogas for America, an initiative driving use of this clean alternative fuel, and you can learn more about the benefits of Autogas by visiting their website at www.autogasforamerica.org.

It is critical that we reduce our carbon footprint and diversify our energy portfolio right here at home, right now. To learn how we can start making a clean break from foreign oil right away, Autogas for America can provide you with contact information for local resources – all you have to do is email info@autogasforamerica.org to learn the benefits and options for transitioning our community’s vehicles from conventional gasoline to clean and economical Autogas.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter; your support is invaluable.

Sincerely,
